

The Weekly Chronicle.

THE DALLES, - - - - OREGON

LOCAL AND PERSONAL.

From the Daily Chronicle, Friday.

Hon. Isaac Blum, of Portland, is registered at the Umatilla house today.

Stoneman & Fiege advertise that they warrant all goods sold by them. See advertisement.

Dr. Albert Welgus, of Fort Simcoe, passed through The Dalles today with his family, on route to Albany.

Geo. McKinney and Charles Hall struck out for the woods yesterday, in the hope of finding a bear or two.

Jos. Beazley is a friend of the boys, but he would like a notice put in today's paper, to warn the boys against stripping the fruit trees on his farm, and in his neighborhood.

The republican state convention of Montana will not convene until the 6th of next month. The campaign will be one of the shortest carried on in any state this year.

Mrs. Saunders, writing to the doctor in The Dalles from Saginaw, about the Bay city fire, says 1,500 people were left homeless. Forty blocks were burned out, including 300 residences, besides business houses, etc.

The slowness with which surveys have been made in Idaho has had much to do with retarding the growth of that state. It is a small wonder, then, that the present appropriations for this purpose are eagerly welcomed by the residents.

Mr. Gibson, who has been the friend of poor unfortunate Henry Deerhack for several years, came up from California, and yesterday went on Henry's bonds releasing him from durance, and started for Prineville with him this morning.

Charley Harmon, the worthless opium fiend who was under arrest for selling a poisonous decoction to Warm Spring Indians for whisky, ended his career last night by hanging himself in the Multnomah jail, where he was confined pending an investigation by the United States court.

It was ordered last evening that steam be kept up on the fire engine as usual, until August 24th, at which time the council will meet again, and they want the chief engineer, firemen and citizens generally to meet with them for free discussion and a mutual understanding of the situation.

A Philadelphia publisher contemplates bringing out an edition of Shakespeare in words of one syllable for use in primary schools. This looks absurd at first glance, and yet much of Shakespeare's virility is due to small words well chosen, and many of his finest phrases contain no words of more than two syllables.

Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Humbert of 12-Mile house, are in the city awaiting the arrival of their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Montgomery, from Greenfield, Mo. Mrs. Montgomery is in poor health, and the trip, it is expected, will result in a benefit to her. They will remain some time, returning by way of San Francisco.

Mr. J. P. Hillstrom of Hood river was in the city today attending to some land office business, and from a conversation with him on the division of the county "prayed for" by certain Hood River people, we came to the conclusion that if an attempt is made to log roll a bill of that kind through the assembly next winter a pretty formidable opposition to it will spring up like a wasps nest where least expected.

THE CHRONICLE acknowledges a very pleasant call from J. B. Horner, A. M., professor of English language and literature in the state agricultural college at Corvallis. While the literary work of the college is not inferior to that of other institutions of learning, the distinctive feature of this school is that it brings the student into touch with the great business industries of the state and nation. Great mines of wealth lie yet undiscovered in our state; its fields of coal and iron are yet to be developed; its beds of lead, copper, silver, and gold ores now uncovered are but samples of that which science will unfold. The purpose of this school is to educate men who will help to discover and to open up to our citizens the resources of the state.

That Eastern Oregon is in the mind of railway projection is pretty certain this year. Occasionally a paragraph is seen which indicates the way the wind is blowing. The Klamath Express, speaking of the possible intentions of the Southern Pacific and the Great Northern, in an interview with Geo. J. Farnsworth, says: "I consider that Mr. Crocker's statements relative to the Southern Pacific's future movements are encouraging in the extreme. He informed me that owing to the large amount of railroad building already on hand his company would not commence operations toward this point until next year and that they would then push their work ahead. At our last meeting he showed me the line of survey from which they will probably deviate but little. The Southern Pacific is keeping a watch on the movements of competing lines and it is quite likely that if the Great Northern heads for this country from Idaho this summer the Southern Pacific may change their plans and commence operations at once." We believe that Mr. Hill intends to continue his Great Northern road from Butte to San Francisco via Boise city. O. L. Miller, of Boise, is promoter of a line of railroad to connect Butte with Boise. It is a fine route, penetrating a country of extreme richness. It has already been surveyed and construction engineers will be, within one week, sent into the field. Miller is a poor man, and a short time ago despaired of success. He went east and visited Chicago and St. Paul, and returned to Boise with abundant financial backing, proclaiming that the road would certainly be built.

From the Daily Chronicle Saturday.

Both houses of congress adjourned at 11:30 last night.

Tomorrow will be the last Sunday for fresh salmon this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Egan have returned from their Klickitat visit.

F. J. Moffit and wife of Monkland, are at the Umatilla house today.

There is quite a demand in The Dalles just now for bill posting.

Rates at Cloud Cap Inn are per day, $3.50; per week $10; per month $15.

Mr. W. A. Davis, artist for Bert C. Towne, is in the vicinity taking some fine views.

Mrs. Middleton arrived on the noon passenger yesterday on a visit to Mrs. Varney.

The boiler is in position, and the house well up on Kennedys new steam yacht.

D. C. Sullivan, Jas. Ferguson and H. Bland arrived this morning from Ulysses, Kansas.

Six car loads of horses are being shipped from the East End today for Kansas city.

Mr. J. M. Patterson left to-day for Wind River, to be in camp with his family over Sunday.

Wood, lumber and building materials pretty well cover the levee below the Umatilla house.

The two-and-a-half million bill for the benefit of the Chicago fair, has finally passed congress.

Space in the pavilion for the coming district fair may be had on application to J. O. Mack, secretary.

Read the new ad. of The Dalles, Portland and Astoria Navigation Company to-day. That means business.

A pontoon bridge crossing Mill creek, just below the railroad bridge, is quite a handy scheme for the boat builders.

Caroline, the Dusky Queen of West End, languishes in jail today on a charge of selling, or giving liquor to Indians.

C. W. Phelps & Co., of this city, offer to pay the toll of Sherman county farmers who buy from them. This is one of the keys to success.

It is authoritatively announced that Mr. Blaine will soon go upon the stump in defense of the principles of his party.

The Dalles citizens brass band boys will entertain a few of their friends tomorrow at a quiet little outing up Mill creek. All the boys are invited.

Thirteen of the rioters at Duquesne have been arrested. Many others have left town. The thirty repairmen, driven away by strikers returned to work.

Mr. Hugh Gourlay, late editor of THE CHRONICLE, has accepted the Warm Springs Indian agency clerkship. He will leave for his new field next week.

One hundred thousand pounds of nails, piled up in one thousand kegs of one hundred pounds each, makes a fine appearance at Mays & Crowe's to-day.

Hon. Polk Mays, of Wallowa county, was recently in the city en route to Portland, for the purpose of disposing of some beef cattle for himself and neighborhood.

Mr. Hughes, late clerk of Washington county, was in the city today. He has acquired such a habit of hanging around clerks offices, that everywhere he goes he makes that his resort.

John Booth left by the Regulator this morning for his camp down the Columbia. He had his instrument with him, so it is presumed there will be services in that camp tonight.

All members of German Gesang Verein Harmonie are requested to be present at the regular time of meeting at their hall, on the 7th, as matters of importance will come before the meeting.

Mr. Astor can draw a check based on an income of $7.38 a minute, but it shows the relative value of things that just now it's doubtless more satisfaction to him that he can draw his breath.

Looking at Mars is now the pastime of famous astronomers. The Review suggests that when they grow weary of searching for the canals in Mars they might turn their telescopes on Seattle.

A big combined harvester at work near Pendleton is attracting much attention. It is capable of turning out 750 sacks of two bushels each per day, besides grading the wheat. It is the first machine of the kind employed in that vicinity.

Dr. and Mrs. Taylor have just returned from a trip of two weeks country driving. Dr. Taylor says they found fishing fine in the west fork of Hood river. There the water was cold and fish solid. Trout lake was warm and fishing done for the season. He got the last block of ice at the cave. Returning they came via Glenwood, Blockhouse and Goldendale.

At a special meeting of the common council Thursday, chief engineer Judd S. Fish tendered his resignation, which was accepted, and Recorder Menefee was instructed to notify the fire department, and request the board to name a successor.

Senator Charles Hilton has information from Pine Creek, Gilliam county, that, on the 4th, there was born to the wife of F. A. Hale, on the Hilton ranch, a bouncing baby boy that tipped the beam at nine pounds avoirdupois. This is the first boy born on the ranch.

F. A. Young, of Bake Oven, is in the city, en route to Klickitat to look after a band of sheep he has over there. He thus combines business with pleasure and enjoys the vacation after the busy season on the ranch, which has just closed by securing the hay crop.

We learn that Mr. and Mrs. Stevens arrived safely at Condon on the 30th, from The Dalles. Mr. Stevens was carried on a bed all the way, but stood the trip better than was expected. He is yet about the same as when at The Dalles, but hopes are entertained of an improvement after resting.

Supt. Meisner, of the state board of charities, publicly mentions in the Telegram, referring to the receipt of five children from this city, that county Judge Blakeley and other Dalles officials gave all the aid and encouragement they possibly could in the efforts and purpose of the society to have these five children sent to Portland and placed under the protection of the home.

A. W. Sweeney, of Athena, reports that he has 2600 acres in wheat, 50 of which he is certain to obtain 50,000 bushels. Seven hundred acres of this is fall wheat, which will make an average of forty bushels, so he thinks. He says that if the blight had not occurred this same field would have gone over sixty bushels, as it was the finest stand he ever saw in this or any other country.

The members of the state militia are delighted with the project of procuring possession of the Fort Klamath military post, one square mile, to the state of Oregon, for the purpose of using it as a permanent militia camp ground. The proposition meets with the approbation of all but the fellows who have been looking forward to the time when they would be able to gobble the property for a song when sold by the general government.

A half a dozen Indians on a big booze yesterday started the officials at work to ferret out the source of supplies. Jack Andrew one of the Indians being v. d. d., Recorder Menefee fined him $10. An old man on Front street named Herman, was arrested for furnishing the liquor to them, but on examination before United States Commissioner J. M. Huntington, the case was taken under advisement, as he was proven to have sold them cider, only.

It will be well for parties who are running steam threshers on the public highways to remember that there is a law to the effect that any one running a steam traction engine over a bridge crossing such bridge, place a two-inch plank lengthways for the engine to cross on, and in case this is not complied with, are subject to a heavy fine or imprisonment, or both. But the worst of all is picking the machine up out of the gulch or creek bed.

The Hotel de Cross Bar contained a couple of prisoners yesterday en route to Portland, in custody of a deputy United States marshal, on charge of selling liquor to Arlington Indians. One of them was asked by THE CHRONICLE representative if he thought the authorities would make the charge hold. "Hold! you bet; I don't deny it. I bought the whisky and put it in a woodpile and the Indians got it." It is about time for Judge Deady to punish these fellows. A nominal fine is not sufficient.

From the Daily Chronicle, Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Farley returned from Hood River last evening.

Mrs. A. Keller and family left on the Regulator for Portland this a. m.

Messrs. Haight and Wilson spent Sunday in camp with their families, below Hood River.

May's & Crowe received a stump puller for E. T. Higby, see it and make your own comment.

The Regulator, Baker and ferryboat, were officially inspected yesterday by Messrs. McDermott and Edwards.

Capt. Coe's new steamer, the Irma, was inspected yesterday, on the return of Messrs. McDermott and Edwards.

P. W. DeHuff left for Ripari this morning, to look after the steamer service of the U. P. R. Co., on Snake river.

Messrs. M. A. Moody, Green, Joslyn and others, returned from a fishing jaunt last night, saturated with satisfaction.

The fire department will not have it as Judd S. Fish wants it, hence have re-appointed him chief of The Dalles department.

Col. John McCracken returned from a trip to the interior on Saturday. He says the weather was extremely warm in Utah. At Huntington on Saturday the thermometer registered 104 degrees, northern exposure.

According to quotations of the Chicago cattle and horse market, given today, The Dalles would be a good place to reach out for a supply of either.

Bro. John Michell couldn't stay at home yesterday. He too had an outing down in the direction of the cool umbrageous shades of Mosier, angling in like pebbly brooks for the speckled beauties like other disciples of Isaak Walton.

Prof. J. M. DeMoss has decided not to give a concert in The Dalles by his family, in consequence of the lack of a suitable hall. Their last concert was given in Chicago June 27th, and the family are now returning to their home in Oregon.

There is no improvement in the condition of Mr. Thomas Oleason. A consultation of three physicians was held this morning, and fears are entertained as to his recovery. He is being kindly cared for by many friends of long years standing.

The D. P. & A. N. Co., having dropped the way freight business between the Cascades and Portland are now enabled to land passengers in Portland and The Dalles much earlier than formerly. During the summer months this route should be patronized by all.

The Tuna Hedge, the future fence of the country, which is described today, may be secured of Johnson & Moon, at the Umatilla house. Orders should be sent in as soon as possible, as there is no permanent office here. Mr. Johnson is well known in The Dalles, and will furnish any recommendations needed.

Hon. Van B. DeLashmutt, ex-mayor of Portland, passed through Saturday on his return from Boise City. He thinks matters will soon be all right again in Coeur d'Alene, as justice will be done to both sides. This will necessitate the hanging of three or four hundred people, probably; but justice should be done, certainly.

Even the circus brought nobody good, in Portland last week. It was a caravan of thieves. Persons living in the neighborhood of the performances hope never to be so afflicted again. The mob of thieves operated extensively in the way, rifling cellars and kitchens of provisions, stealing garden hose and in fact anything else that could be carried away without attracting much attention.

People went from The Dalles to Hood River, outing, yesterday. A party from Hood River took in Bridal Veil; and a Bridal Veil party stopped off at Troutdale, where a party stepped on board for Portland. Once at Portland half a dozen steamboats were ready to carry as many as could go comfortably to Astoria, Clatsop and North Beach. Thus do we rest on Sundays in Oregon.

Portland is the dustiest city on the west side of the continent at present. There is not the slightest effort made to suppress the dirt. On the other hand taxes continue to be levied to increase the stock of dirt on hand by opening new streets which are not needed, and turning them over to the winds to be blown in with the unreconstructed nuisances everywhere abounding.

So Mars is not peopled after all. This verdict from the Lick astronomers does away with the last hope of marshaling blocks of five from that quarter. It is hardly probable that the patience of the good Lord great as it is, could tolerate another inhabited world. The decision that there are no canals there, also disposes of the fanciful theory that the inhabitants of Mars were advanced enough to provide against railroad combines. The canals are not parallel lines, the observers now say, but broad bands. That the astronomers are making hay while the sun shines is very evident. Telescopes on both hemispheres are pointed to the beautiful red planet nightly, and observations of great interest and scientific value are being made. The Lick telescope has brought forth discoveries of great importance.

The Climate, of Course.

For more years than small boys can remember, our worthy friend A. J. Dufur, jr., of Fifteen-mile, has been to the "fore," and generally spoilt the season by getting his arms or legs broken, or otherwise stopping the "machine." But this year is an exception. We met him on the streets Saturday, hale and hearty, and sound as a dollar, and as he says, "able to do more work and eat more grub than any other man." The climate is responsible, of course.

Modern Miracles.

A singer for breath was distressed, and the doctors all said she must rest. But she took G. M. D. For her weak lungs you see. And now she can sing with the best.

An athlete gave out, on a run, and he feared his career was quite done. G. M. D. he pray observe. Give back his lost nerve. And now he can lift half a ton.

A writer, who wrote for a prize, Had headaches and pain in the eyes; G. M. D. was the spell. That made him quite well. And glory be to him now lies.

These are only examples of the daily triumphs of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, in restoring health and reviving wasted vitality. Sold by all druggists.

Let Us Join.

Glacier. The Dalles is preparing to make an exhibit at the Portland exposition of Wasco county products. Hood River should join in the good work and see that the display is, as usual, superior to that of any other county in the state. It can easily be done.

Didn't Fancy the Change.

Press-Times. Private Iams has started to sue his late officers for making him play thumbs-up and shaving his head. Iams thinks he came too darn near being Iwas.

An Estray Horse.

A roan horse about six years old, with no brand so far as I can find, came to my place, June 6th 1892. At what is known as 12-Mile house, on the Canyon city road. The owner is requested to call and prove property pay charges and take him away. J. B. HUMBERT. Dated Aug. 5th, 1892. w.6t

The Old Times are Not In It.

While at our other store at Big Island, Va., last April, I was taken with a very severe attack of diarrhoea. I never had it worse in my life. I tried several old-time remedies, such as Blackberry Wine, Paregoric and Laudanum without getting any relief. My attention was then called to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy by Mr. R. C. Tinsley who had been handling it there, and in less than five minutes after taking a small dose I was entirely relieved. -O. G. BURROUGHS, Harris Creek, Amherst Co., Va. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists. d&w

Saved a Woman's Life.

Mr. J. E. Thoroughgood, writing from Georgetown, Delaware, says: "Two testimonials of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy saved the life of Mrs. Jane Thomas of this place." He also states that several other very bad cases of bowel complaint there have been cured by this remedy. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists. d&w

To The Public.

I have no hesitancy in recommending Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy to the public, as I do to my friends and patrons. I used it myself after other well-known remedies had failed, and it cured me in a few minutes. I recommend it candidly and cheerfully upon its merits, not from a financial stand-point, because I have others in stock on which I make a larger profit, but because Chamberlain's is the best remedy I know of for bowel complaints. There is no doubt about it, it does the work. -JAMES FORGY, Druggist, McVeytown, Penn. For sale by Blakeley & Houghton, druggists. d&w
